Britain, France, Germany Urged To Negotiate

By H. C. BURMAN

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin. THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Nov. 7.—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and King Leopold of the Belgians appealed to Britain, France and Germany today to negotiate peace "before the war in western Europe breaks out in its full terror."

The sovereigns formulated the peace appeal in a joint statement addressed to the foreign ministers, and while anxious Dutch crowds stood in a dreary rain, they were joined by Belgian and French telegrams to Fuehrer Adolf Hitler. Premier Albert Lebrun of France and King Alfonso XIII of Spain offered their good offices to the belligerent powers in getting the belligerent powers together.

C.C.F. Speakers Told Couldn't Use Same Words Under Nazis

VICTORIA, Nov. 7.—"If Hitler emerged victorious the Co-operative Commonwealth party couldn't say the words we have heard the past two sittings; they would be taken out to concentration camps or probably shot," Premier T. D. Pattullo said in the legislature Monday.

The premier spoke after a speech by C. C. F. member Calum MacLean, who withdrew remarks referring to British policy and government.

"We could all temper our observations because we are at war," said Mr. MacLean. "Let the people of British Columbia judge. Do not try to force us to do what we do not want to do. Let us go along with the Ottawa government. Where would the C.C.F. party be if Hitler emerged victorious? We have heard the past two sittings. They would be taken out to concentration camps or probably shot."

PROMISES DISAPPOINT

Earlier Speaker Norman Whitaker, referring to controversy over whether legislative immunity of members had been withdrawn as claimed by the British White, C.C.F., Vancouver East, said:

"I am not going to make any statement as to immunity from arrest as far as I am concerned. But the house decides that any member makes a statement in this house that would be considered a violation of the Defense of Canada act regulations if made outside the house, then he would have to leave the house as a non-member. In view of the importance of the question I shall leave it to the house to decide."

Price said the new regulations of the act renders volunteers subject to prison terms up to five years and fines of $5,000.

FORCED TO WITHDRAW

"We are bound to withdraw for criticizing the Chamberlain government" said Cameron, native of England, who served with the British forces during the war and was criticizing the Chamberlain government for what it did not do for us," he said. "We mention Spain and Czechoslovakia but withdraw our reference to those countries on the advice of the Foreign Office—D. R. Ben, Liverpool South Otagham."

Previously Cameron had withdrawn a reference to G. D. H. Thomas, Labour Minister of Health, to remain concerning Mrs. Dorothy Steeves' speech last Friday in which the C.C.F. member for North Vancouver criticized British policies and government.

"We are asked to forget the criminality of the past," Cameron said. "That is a symbol of our attachment to a symbol. Parliament is that devotion spoken of by Lord Tennyson. All the people of Canada. The Canadian government has been greatly unable to respond to the unemployed of the Dominion."

Mr. Pattullo said the statements should be withdrawn as they tend to bring up old controversies. He rejected again but the speaker was not asked for a ruling and the statements stood.

Be Sure To Vote

Tomorrow is municipal election day in Edmonton. There are no contests to fill vacancies on either the public or separate school board. Mayor Fry is being opposed by Mr. S. A. G. Barnes, M.L.A., while Mrs. Ringwood and ex-Mayor Clarke are running for seats on the city council, in addition to the five retiring aldermen who are seeking re-election.

This is the smallest number of candidates, and the fewest number of vacancies, for many years; while the voters' list is the longest in the history of the city. There has been little interest shown in the election, perhaps because of a prevalent feeling that the retiring mayor and aldermen were fairly entitled to acclamation, with which view The Bulletin was in accord.

But, an election being necessary, it is to be hoped there will be a large turnout of voters. That, aside from other considerations, is due in fairness to the candidates—particularly to the retiring mayor and aldermen. It isn't sentiment but ballots that count on election night. Those who want the retiring mayor and aldermen re-elected will have to say so by their votes, as those supporting rival candidates will have to make their views effective by the same means.

Abusing Freedom

A lady C. C. F. member of the British Columbia legislature gave striking testimony to the liberty Canadians enjoy because they are not ruled by Nazis. She openly and roundly condemned British Governments past and present, minimized the outrages committed by Herr Hitler and his associates, and expressed a hope that when the war ends the British and all other empires will be no more.

Had this lady as a member of the Reichstag vented such sentiments toward the Reich she would have been shot, beheaded, or interned in one of those camps she read about a week ago in newspaper despatches. It is in fact practically impossible that a member of the Reichstag holding such views should ever get a chance to express them in the assembly. Long before a member got to that point the Gestapo would catch the scent of treason, expose the culprit, and the axe would fall—literally or metaphorically.

Abuse is the tribute that ignorance and perversity pay to liberty.

But there is a limit beyond which the people of any country will not tolerate this sort of thing, and beyond which they have no obligation to tolerate it. Liberty is not license. Those who persistently ignore the distinction have cause to be thankful, rather than aggrieved, when the authority of law comes to put them in places of safety. Otherwise their innocence might lead the public to treat them as harshly as the officials would treat them if they lived in a totalitarian state.

The Old Germany Has Gone

From Hungary comes word that growing uneasiness is the reaction among German residents in that and other Balkan states to Herr Hitler's plans to return them to the Reich. There are two millions or more of German descent in those countries, whose forefathers in many cases migrated from the homeland centuries ago. They are proud of their German ancestry, and have not been averse to making this known.

But to be ordered to leave their farms and hike back to Germany, there to be planted as a garrison in Poland, and to live under Nazi orders of things, does not strike them favorably. The probability is they won't go unless they have to.

This attitude on the part of the Balkan Germans must be also that of the great mass of German people residing in Canada and other parts of the world. These, too, are proud of their German lineage and traditions, but that is quite different from wanting to be subjects under the Nazi yoke.

The Germans they or their fathers came here, has passed away. In its place is a country whose people are ruled by tyrants, exploited, spied upon by secret police, and are now being driven to the shambles in a war not of their making. Why should Germans fortunate enough to be living abroad approve what has been done to their fatherland, or want to share its miseries?

Balkan Germans may have to obey the order to move into the Reich, hence their "uneasiness". Canadians of German descent don't have to, which is their good luck.

A Deadlock in India

The Canadian pattern of self-government does not seem to be working very well in India. Britain being too busy with the war to continue the rather unpromising attempt to reconcile the irreconcilable, the Congress party refuses to operate the machinery already established. Five provincial governments resigned, and when the Viceroy proposed to compromise, by putting both Congress and Muslim representatives on the executive council of the central ministry, this was rejected. The country is thus automatically returned to arbitrary rule, with little promise that democratic institutions can be developed until the war ends.

The root of the trouble is of course the age-long cleavage between Hindu and Moslem, a cleavage heavily charged with very positive antagonism, which at religious festivals and other inviting occasions breaks into fierce street fighting. Gandhi and his associates appear to be sensible of the difficulties. The British Government is hardly likely to carry their protest against the posturing of India's political problem to the point of agitation against the "paramount power". Nor are the Moslem leaders conducting an anti-British movement.

The fact seems to be that either party would rather have India ruled directly by British officials than by the other faction. Which is no doubt good for India, but does not brighten the prospect for setting up there a smooth working parliamentary system on the federal scale.

Rather the situation suggests that "home rule for India" cannot be imposed at a stroke and as a full-fledged "national" set-up. The inconvenient fact is there is no "nation" to start with, but an innumerable number of races, sects and cliques, each steeped in its own traditions and prejudices, and with little consciousness of any community of interest with the others.

Popular government never yet flourished anywhere in such an atmosphere.

A large number of personal friends and business acquaintances in Alberta will be interested to learn that on Saturday last Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the C. P. R. in charge of western lines, celebrated his fortieth anniversary in the company's service. He joined the staff as a clerk for Fort William in 1899, and was still attached to Montreal five years ago spent the intervening time in the west. He was for some years stationed at Calgary, as superintendent of the Alberta district, and is widely known and popular among Albertans as a result of the contacts thus made.

The Passing Show

By MAX FREEDMAN

A new movement has started in Quebec which should do much to make the national unity of Canada a triumphant and abiding reality. The citizens of Quebec wisely are not content with having to make a choice between the shadows. They want to make a choice of the welfare of their province, and QUEBEC POINTS THE dominion as a whole, never again shall be stained or endangered by an arrogant minority speaking as the persons prejudiced were the philosophy of the people.

To this end a Pan-Canadian Union is being planned by lovers of unity in Quebec to unite all provinces, all races, all religions, all languages, the common bond of fervent and creative loyalty to the Canadian heritage.

This gallant and distinguished editor, Jean-Charles Harvey, director of the Montreal paper, "Le Journal", has been honored by having his journal chosen as the one to launch this campaign. He has defined its purpose in words which cannot be bettered: "In every city of the Dominion, in every town, in every village, Quebec, Halifax, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, St. John, Charlottetown, Vancouver, Victoria, and others, the Pan-Canadian Union will establish clubs, operating somewhat after the pattern of the Canadian and Empire Leagues. But these clubs will be clearly defined. They will seek to maintain Canadian unity, friendly among different ethnic groups, a truly Canadian spirit, progress in education, interprovincial visits, exchanges of scholars and professors, holiday colonies, operation of better health clinics, amalgamation of sports, and of other activities proper to the reinforcement of the federal tie and to the improvement of living conditions among our compatriots."

Edmontonians should be grateful in such a cause. We may have some of our mistakes at the expense of Duluth or the indiscretions of Paul Gouin for the ideals cherished by Quebec.

It is time a union of hearts truly began to prevail in this country, between east and west, and between English and French-speaking, between all who live in Canada and serve Canada.

Let us hope that our finer citizens to head the Pan-Canadian Club in Edmonton, whose prestige and admiration of all that is best in the Quebec tradition, will be able to help in the work of the Dominion.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Little Hope
Hockey Funds
Navy Wrestling

TODAY the executive of the Edmonton Hockey Club is not very hopeful that it will be able to sign Joe Benoit to a Flyer contract for the season that will open here November 18.

The night manager Don Sturz stated that Benoit is still being swatted around by Dr. W. G. Hardy, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, as to whether or not Benoit is eligible to sign with Edmonton.

The much-bought-after winger was also uncertain as to what he would do about hockey. He will likely make a trip to Trail to talk it all over before deciding.

In the meantime the Flyers are drilling methodically with a charity practice game billed for Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Auditorium. The team is up the E. A. C. and several hockey playing soldiers from the Edmonton Garrison. Proceeds go to the Samanite Fund.

The Flyers are definitely coming into condition now and they should be in good shape when they open against the club they want most of all to beat—Frank Coulson's Old Elks. Don't miss this opener on November 18 if you like your hockey with plenty of paprika in it.

Funds and Uses of Them

RESIDENT DR. W. G. HARDY of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, advanced the suggestion the other day that the C.A.H.A. might set up a patriotic fund to aid widows of former amateur hockey players who do not return from France's war fields.

Everyone will appreciate the spirit in which the suggestion was made, but it is considered that at the present time it would be better than more than a gesture of sympathy to the recipients of benefits, concerned while the payments, however small, would amount in aggregate to a burden that might hit hockey hard. After all there are very few Canadian soldiers who haven't had an amateur hockey card at some time in their lives.

It seems to me that pension funds and financial assistance to war widows is strictly a Dominion government responsibility.

There is one way in which C.A.H.A. surplus funds could be well used to encourage hockey and that is by making it possible for more youngsters to play. Canada has thousands of kids who can't play because the parents can't afford them winter stocks and skates because there are no organized leagues available to cover the cost of equipment. Every city has several well organized clubs with teams, several divisions—junior, juvenile, midget. Every city also has a number of leagues endeavoring to give hockey available to all youngsters—not the sandlot gangs without money, organization or skating facilities—all exist.

Here in Edmonton there are hundreds of kids who turn out every time a club asks for players. When every club has its roster full, these hundreds are left to eat their hearts out watching from the sidelines.

Just as the C.A.H.A. can best help these unfortunate is a big problem that requires a lot of discussion. Some suggestions can be made, however, as a basis of discussion. Equipment might be supplied by the C.A.H.A. at a price somewhat below wholesale to teams catering solely to underprivileged kids. The C.A.H.A. absorbing the cost below wholesale prices. Help might also be extended to towns wanting to build covered rinks. This help would probably be in the form of grants of equipment, advice, and the like. There are many communities in Alberta that would gladly build covered rinks if they were given a start by the C.A.H.A. offering to buy some of the debentures.

Ring Show For Navy Smoker

BODING and wrestling will be a feature of the smoker which the Edmonton branch of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve is staging at its barracks on the night of Nov. 11. President Mike McCorquodale is the master in charge of this entertainment.

Three R.C.N.V.R. tabs will be in action. Graham Nelson, Bill Glover and Cecil Goldthick. Their opponents will be civilians just to be named. Among the boxers who will take part will be Eddie McSparron, Barney McDermott, Barney O'Connor, Bob Metcalf, Vic Pollock and "Popeye" Murphy.

Saskatoon Dodgers Play E.A.C. Here on Friday

SASKATOON DOGERS, combined forces of the Wesleys and the Chiefs and much favored to cop Saskatchewan's junior crown, will be the first squad to test the new edition of the Edmonton Athletic Club as the fiery young Juniors open hockey action at the Arena Friday night.

Friday's game will get the housekeeping off the shoulders of the Juniors and will give them time to polish up the rest before Saturday's great senior battle on November 18.

The Dodgers come to Edmonton with a club that failed spectacularly in the last year, but the team itself is still strong. The team is made up of the Wesley's best and also the best from the Chiefs. The Juniors have always come up with fast and good squads in past seasons.

This game will also see the return of E.A.C. star Gordie Howe for the first time. Only half a dozen of last year's starry players remain on the senior side. The Juniors' team for this year's team have been filled in second, third and fourth places.

Albertans while Chad, a brother to Gordie, comes from Prince Albert.

Those returning from last year's team are goalscorer Ken Kehler, Ken Young, with forwards Elmer Kreider, Jack McGill, Bruce McKay, Eddie Thompson and Gordie Howe.

The game will start at 8:30 p.m.
